

Rover the Dog

One beautiful day, Kirby took his new puppy, Rover, out for a walk. Rover was a handful and pulled Kirby down the street.

They walked by Caileen, who was playing in her yard. “What a wonderful puppy,” she said. Rover was always playful. He jumped up on Caileen.

“Be careful, Rover,” said Kirby. “You should not jump!” Kirby felt very shameful. “Caileen, I’m so sorry. Rover is not very mindful.”

“Hmmm! My mom is a dog trainer. Maybe she could be helpful,” said Caileen.

They both watched as Rover ran over to a mud puddle and began rolling in it. Soon he was a frightful mess.

“I would be very thankful for some help. Rover does need some training!” said Kirby.
